Gatic Overview

Gatic specialises in integrated surface water management & Engineered Access Covers. For almost 90 years Gatic Surface Water drainage systems have been used to capture, control and return run-off safely into the natural water cycle. Gatic is proven in the most demanding industrial, commercial and residential projects. It includes exterior surface water channels, high capacity channels, linear and slot drainage, and access covers.

Gatic Access Covers

Gatic Access Covers are machined horizontal and vertical seating faces of the cover and frame components, which, when assembled into a complete unit, provide a cover and frame that is sealed against dirt and water, and remains completely stable without rocking under traffic loads.

B125-F900

Gatic Slotdrain

Gatic Slotdrain channels are suitable for applications up to F900 (depending on the system type). The hexagonal profile ensures high flow performance. The V-shaped channel base aids a self-cleansing flow and helps prevent blockages.
